“ Deepest sympathy to the Infanto family. I have fond memories of him, always helping someone. Always smiled. He helped me one day when I locked my keys in the car at the bank in Cape May. gave me a ride to get my other keys told my mom he was arresting me, mom wanted to know what I did now. He got a good laugh out of that. He will be missed.

“ Deepest sympathy to Chuck and Jill, Billy and Villa and families. Your Mom and Dad were two of the best people I have ever known. They were kind, generous, unassuming and just wonderful to everyone. They were my husband's aunt and uncle but I never felt like an in law to them. They were always interested in our lives and welcomed us into their home on our visits like only they knew how to do. We will miss them terribly but will remember them with love and a smile always.

“ A huge part of my personality came from my grandfather. He was a master of finding the humor and happiness in all things and would never show you a bad day. He was a teacher of empathy and a great storyteller. I miss you, Pop Pop.

“ Though I didn't know him well, I appreciated at a young age how he could be spit and shine serving the community as a police officer, and could show his casual side at the skating rink. A Cape May treasure. Condolences to the family.

“ My memories of "Angie" come from he and my father (Joseph Eagan) being active in the St Mary's Council of the Knights of Columbus, in Cape May. He was always a bundle of "happy energy".

To the Infanto family, please accept my sincere condolences for your loss.

Rest In Peace, Lieutenant. Thanks for your service, both in Korea and in the City of Cape May.
